By signing this statement, I declare to be the author of the manuscript entitled:

and hereby grant a license for the manuscript to be published in Digressions: Amsterdam Journal of Critical Theory, Cultural Analysis, and Creative Writing (hereafter: the Journal) under the following terms and conditions:

Licensing Terms and Conditions

1. The author warrants that:
 - a. the manuscript constitutes original work that has not been previously published and is not simultaneously under consideration by another journal or publication;

- b. he/she has full authority to sign this statement and that the rights he/she is granting to the Journal are granted without breaching any obligations he/she may have;
- c. publication of the work does not infringe on any existing copyright, and does not infringe on any other rights of any third party.

This warrant concerns the entire manuscript – text as well as images, sound, video, and other materials.

- 2. The author is responsible for providing digital images or other materials to be published with the work (if any), securing permission to reproduce these materials, and paying any required fees. Proof of copyright clearance must be provided with this form.
- 3. The author retains copyright and grants the Journal the right of first publication with the work simultaneously licensed under a Creative Commons BY-NC-ND 4.0 License. This license promotes academic openness and accessibility by allowing others to share the unmodified work for non-commercial purposes, provided that the work's authorship and initial publication in the Journal are appropriately acknowledged.
- 4. The author is able to enter into separate, additional contractual arrangements for the non-exclusive distribution of the work (e.g., post it to an institutional repository or publish it in a book), with an acknowledgement of its initial publication in the Journal.
- 5. This licensing statement shall be governed by the laws of the Netherlands.
